Civic Committee Candidate for Selectman

HUGHES SPEAKER AT RALLY HELD IN J. J. BARRY HOME

A very large and enthusiastic gathering of voters from the Heights district greeted the various candidates for Town Office, Wednesday evening, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Barry, 30 School St., who sponsored the rally in the interest of the candidates endorsed by the Arlington Civic Committee.

Before the candidates addressed the gathering, an entertainment consisting of piano and vocal solos by Rita Mooney and Rose Fernon; the "Arlingtonians," a harmony trio consisting of James Scannell, 1st tenor, John Scannell, baritone, and Harold Worth 2nd tenor was presented. Kay and Buddy Kelley, Mary Chabott, Alice and Joseph Barry, Jr., and those popular radio and vaudeville entertainers, Joe Barry and his partner, Larry Jenkin, known as the "Singing Legionnaires" also entertained.

After the entertainment Mr. Barry introduced P. Joseph McManus, Chairman of the Civic Committee who stressed the fact

HECTIC CAMPAIGN REACHES CLIMAX

FINAL TRIBUTE PAID VICTIM OF GAS EXPLOSION

Thomas W. Stanton Funeral Held Yesterday—Services in St. Agnes' Church—Young Man Killed Instantly When Struck By Manhole Cover Following Gas Explosion—Accident Near Arlington-Belmont Line—Arlington Gas Light Official Issues Statement

In the presence of a large number of relatives, friends and fellow workers, a touching tribute was paid Thomas W. Stanton, late employee of the Arlington Gas Light Company yesterday morning when a solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated in St. Agnes' church. Stanton was instantly killed in a gas main explosion in Belmont last Monday morning.

The funeral was from the home of his aunt, Mrs. Michael Revane, 23 Johnson rd and burial took place in Mt. Pleasant cemetery.

The young man was the son of William and the late Ann (Waldron) Stanton.

Official Statement
Horace G. Taylor, manager of the Arlington Gas Light Company, has made the following formal statement on the fatal accident:

"Thomas Stanton, 28 years, old, a foreman employed by the Arlington Gas Light Company, was fatally injured on Monday by an explosion in a manhole at the corner of School and Elm sts, Belmont.

"Mr. Stanton and George Butler, another foreman, were making a regular weekly visit to an underground governor pit at this location. At this point, the pressure is reduced from that at which it is supplied to the Arlington territory, to the proper pressure required for household purposes. These men have been inspecting this pit weekly as part of their regular routine.

"There are two manhole covers over the pit and one of these was removed without incident. The second manhole cover, however, had been frozen into the ground and Mr. Stanton was attempting to loosen it when an explosion occurred. The manhole cover struck him in the body and he was thrown some distance away. He was taken immediately to the hospital where it was found that he had died enroute, presumably of internal injuries.

"The Arlington Gas Light Company deeply regrets this sad affair, the first fatality which has occurred in the organization in a number of years. Our investigation seems to indicate that a small quantity of gas may have collected in the manhole and that this in some manner ignited to produce this explosion.

"Mr. Stanton was a young man of high character and had an excellent record with the company. His associates extend their deepest sympathy to his father and sisters and to the aunt, with whom he made his home."

ERNEST W. DAVIS
Citizens' Committee Candidate for Selectman

FORMER SOMERVILLE ALDERMAN ENTERS SELECTMAN FIGHT

Dear Mr. Editor:

As a resident of Somerville and former member of the Somerville Board of Aldermen, being Vice-President in 1932 and President in 1933, and Acting Mayor on many occasions during my four years membership in the public service; and as delegate to the state Democratic convention for presidential electors at Lowell in 1932; and as a member of the Democratic city committee of Somerville for eight years; and as a member of the School Board of Somerville, I feel, like most men, that have rendered public service, that any suggestion in the interest of the public good is always welcome, and with that thought in mind I hope that you will allow me to offer through your valuable paper, to the people of Arlington, my views on the coming election.

I understand that there is a candidate named Albert E. Hughes running for Selectman. I am also informed that his platform has included in it, "better car service for Arlington," and a few more promises of bigger and better things for the town. During the years 1922, 23, 24 and 25 the car service in Somerville was very poor, notwithstanding the presence of Mr. Hughes as a member of the Somerville Board of Aldermen. Regarding his promises of bigger and better things for Arlington, let me remind you that promises of a professional politician, like Mr. Hughes, are made to be broken.

I have no knowledge of party lines in your town. I suppose that on election day Democrats and Republicans alike join hands to select the man best qualified, regardless of party. Now, I admire the man who takes a definite

RECORD VOTE IS PREDICTED FOR TOWN ELECTION

Most Hectic Campaign In Years Winds Up With Sunday Rally—Over Seven Hundred New Voters Eligible To Vote Next Monday—Polls Open At 7 A. M. and Close At 8 P. M.—Interest Centered On Election of Selectman and Public Works Board Member

The most hectic political campaign in the history of the Town will be brought to a climax next Monday when, it is predicted, a record vote will turn out for the election of town officers. Polls open at 7 a. m. and will not close until 8 p. m. so that all registered voters will have ample time to register their vote.

With 742 new voters added to the voting list as a result of recent sessions of the board of registrars, indications are that the vote will be more than at last year's town election will be cast. Although there are fewer candidates this year the rivalry between the candidates endorsed by the Citizens' and Civic committees is much keener. Letters of endorsement of all kinds, house rallies, non-partisan forums, radio speeches and torch light parades are featuring the campaign.

Where To Vote

The voting places will be as follows: Precinct 1, Crosby School; Precincts 2-4, Hardy School; Precincts 5-6, Junior High School East; Precincts 6-8, Robbins Town Hall; Precinct 7, Russell School; Precinct 9, Russell School; Precincts 10-12, Cutter School; Precinct 11, Highland House; Precinct 13, Pierce School; Precinct 14, Locke School.

Major Battles

Most of the efforts of workers for both major parties are concentrated on the election of a selectman and public works board member. Both offices are for a three-year term. Ernest Davis is opposing Albert E. Hughes for selectman while Edward T. Ryan is seeking re-election to the public works board with Loren W. Marsh as his opponent. The entire list of candidates of which there are many, was published in last Friday's NEWS.

Last Rally Tomorrow

The last round-up of the Hughes and Ryan campaign will be held in the Town Hall tomorrow evening.

The rally is being sponsored by the supporters of Albert E. Hughes, who is a candidate for the Board of Selectmen and Edward T. Ryan, for re-election to the Board of Public Works. Nothing has been spared to make this rally the most exciting of the political campaign. Hon. Thomas J. Boynton, former Attorney-General of Massachusetts, who has endorsed the above candidates, will deliver an address that will be of interest to the citizens of Arlington.

The honored guest will be Hon. Charles F. Hurley, State Treasurer of Massachusetts and also Hon. Guido Ubaldi, celebrated Italian orator. In addition to the speakers, moving pictures of President Roosevelt during his

Symphony Concert March 11

The Community Symphony Orchestra of Arlington, under the direction of Leonard Wood, talented young violinist will make its second appearance at Robbins town hall Sunday, March 11 at 4 o'clock when a brilliant program will be presented.

The concert will feature "Sage No. 7," composition by Allen Hovaness, local young man who was outstanding at Tufts College and New England Conservatory of Music and who shows great promise as a composer. The concert will open with the ever popular overture to "William Tell" by Rossini. Schubert's "Unfinished Symphony"; four Bach Chorals arranged for orchestra by Leonard Wood; Sibelius' "Swan of Tuonela" which offers unusual opportunity for string harmonics and a fine English horn solo; and "Finlandia," also by Sibelius will complete the program.

Over six hundred lovers of classical music attended the first concert some weeks ago, and indications are that the attendance will be even larger at the next concert.

Census Takers Are Given Poor Assistance Here

Arlington is one of the few towns where Census Enumerators are meeting with great difficulty in securing the necessary information for the Massachusetts Unemployment Census.

Contrary to the opinion of many of the residents of this town this census is most important, as all information thus obtained is to be used by statisticians in the reconstruction of economic conditions as outlined by President Roosevelt in his recent radio speech.

The young women who are doing this work, despite the adverse weather conditions, are making a thorough census of their respective territories, working six hours a day in order to finish their assignments at a specified date, and the failure of the residents of Arlington to cooperate with the enumerators

Selectmen Protest To CWA Board

Following closely upon orders from the state CWA board laying off thirty-six CWA workers in Arlington last Monday, the board of selectmen sent a letter to Dwight R. Winters, executive director of the State CWA board protesting further cuts in Arlington.

It is likely that the selectmen will be given a hearing before the full State board. The town has never filled its full quota and therefore no cuts should be made now. The layoffs were the result of a general order from Washington.

only makes the work more difficult. The Arlington Supervisor is required to obtain this information from every resident of the town, and can only do so by the people of Arlington cooperating with the enumerators.

The Census Enumerators are sworn employees of the State of Massachusetts and all information given them is held in strict confidence and is forwarded to the Boston Headquarters of the Census Project.

CWA Start On New Project

The re-decorating of the interior of the old Robbins House, occupied by the welfare department, was started by a crew of CWA workers last Wednesday morning. The two large offices occupied by Clifford Cook, welfare agent, and his staff of assistants will be thoroughly painted and repairs will also be made in two other rooms on the ground floor, used for storage of foodstuffs and supplies for needy families. It is understood that welfare quarters will remain there permanently.

THE COMING ELECTION

This year a keen interest has been manifested in our town government as shown by the activities of the Citizens' Committee and the Civic Committee.

These two organizations have sought to select men as candidates for the various town offices who would serve the people of Arlington most effectively.

While there have been no great issues involved it is evident that the importance of proper town government is very much appreciated by many of our leading citizens.

About 58% of our people voted at the last town election. This should emphasize the importance of your vote at the coming election. If you do not cast your vote for the candidates that represent your viewpoint you are actually helping to put his opponent into office.

Both of these political organizations have unquestionably selected men of ability to appear on their slates and have endeavored to be non-partisan as far as is possible in town elections. Notwithstanding these facts it must be appreciated that the candidates of each group, by their records and their utterances have shown that they have definite convictions as to how they should represent the citizens in the event of their election.

We believe that inasmuch as society is divided into various groups, with a variance of political thought, the board of selectmen, and other governing bodies would be most truly representative and most effective if all groups, as far as possible have equal representation.

It therefore becomes the duty of everyone to exercise his right of citizenship and vote on Monday next for the candidate that to his mind will most nearly fulfill the functions of government, wisely, efficiently and with justice to all.

A CHALLENGE TO YOUTH

Nowhere in America is there as much idealism as is found among the high school and college youths of today.

As long as this remains true, there will be no occasion to despair of the future of the world or of human progress. It is true that for many, perhaps for most the glory fades in after life. As men and women take on heavier burdens, and responsibilities they tend to substitute expediency for principle, security for justice, and to compromise with what was once their dearest convictions. The liberalism of youth merges into the conservatism of old age.

When youth comes of age there will be tremendous problems to solve. The breakdown of old standards, the liquor question, crime control, the future of democracy.

The measure of our great men of tomorrow will be determined in a large degree by the extent to which they maintain the ideals of their youth.

A GREATER OBLIGATION

Citizenship implies certain privileges; it also imposes certain obligations. Thus we find men serving in public office with a desire to improve the lot of their fellowmen.

Public officials sometimes are mistaken in their interpretation of what use should be made of the power given them through the electorate. The power is not conferred upon our public men to strengthen their positions, or to make more difficult the path of the less fortunate members of society.

Society is preyed upon by all sorts of depraved characters that challenge the corrective measures of our offhaldom. The capture of the Needham Bank robbers in New York last Sunday was an effective piece of police work.

The task of law enforcement is at best difficult and the public at large must cooperate more fully if we are to effectively rid society of the criminal element which is so brazenly operating today.

The young man making his first mistake is not the one on whom the collective forces of our governing powers should be brought to bear. There are far too many hardened offenders against our laws that go unpunished to justify the extreme measures sometimes meted out to those guilty of minor offenses.

THE NEWS OBSERVES

Clement Molway and Louis Berrett of Brighton were saved from the electric chair by the confession of the Needham bank robbers. This case of mistaken identity by eight witnesses is most amazing and offers food for serious thought.

A Springfield dispatch to the Boston Herald states that 3000 CWA workers in that city plan to organize to work for the continuance of work of this type while depression conditions continue. With millions now on the Federal government payroll what an opportunity for exploiting the people unless the mustering out of Federal emergency employees starts soon.

It is suggested that the Chamber of Commerce should register a protest against the chain stores for keeping their stores open until one o'clock on Washington's birthday.

A local fuel concern, with all modern equipment, this week fell back upon three punge, each drawn by two horses, to make coke and coal deliveries.

Preparatory to launching its 1934 sales activity, Frigidaire Sales Corporation, General Motors' refrigeration and air conditioning subsidiary, is planning to materially increase its expenditure this year in newspaper, national magazines and other advertising media as compared with its 1933 expenditure. The bright outlook for business generally and the Frigidaire sales volume in particular warrants the increase, the company has announced.

According to Katherine Mayo in the year 1931-32, the United States spent more money on her ex-service men than England, France and Germany combined, and yet these countries had 44 times as many disabled in the war. She contends that the truly service disabled men are buried under a load of cheats and grafters.

Congressman Mrs. Edith Nourse Rogers attacks Farley's Air Mail policy saying, Mr. Farley's action will go down in history written in the blood of the young army fliers who have been sent to their deaths. She said cancellation of the air-mail contracts was "unspeakable."

Scouts Spend Week In Winter Camping

The Scouts of Troop Seven, St. Agnes' church, again have proven their ability to care for themselves and enjoy the experience of winter camping. Under the leadership of Scoutmaster George R. Wright, Senior Patrol Leader Joseph Ahearn, and Paul Shell, Ten Scouts went to Camp Oak, Monday, Feb. 19, followed by 8 other boys who arrived Tuesday and Wednesday for the entire week, returning home on Saturday.

Although it was not so cold as in December, the worse blizzard of many years did not dampen the spirits of those attending. In spite of the storm Tuesday, the Scouts lost no time in preparing their ski slide so that they could enjoy skiing for the rest of the week.

Those who made the trip were, Angelo Dimodica, John Dolan, Paul Good, Donald, John, Edward and Arthur Shell, Ambrose Broughton, Edward Troy, Philip Waldron, John Donnelly, John Daly, Arthur Russell, Thomas Twitchell and Richard Carens.

Points To Griffin As Fearless Worker

To the Voters of Arlington: In the coming election Monday, March 5, there should be given serious consideration to the so-called minor positions on the ballot.

In connection with this, I wish to call attention of all voters to the candidacy of Paul C. Griffin, for two years as Park Commissioner. Here is a young man, in every way fitted for the role of public servant; he has what could be fittingly called "that civic urge" or desire to be of service to his fellows, without thought of compensation or selfish interest.

His honesty is unquestioned and I assure all citizens of this town there will be no scandals in the park commission, if he is elected.

He is a town meeting member from his precinct and has worked hard to propagate all measures in the public interest. Being thoroughly familiar with town activities, he knows what the people want and what the town needs in the way of parks, and will be available to all who wish to discuss them.

His ideas are progressive, he will not be just another figurehead.

He is independent in his views, and fearless in expressing them, yet not of the obstructionist type who refuses to be swayed by the logic of his associates.

Foot Specialist Opens Office In Arlington Centre

Dr. S. N. Santurjian, a graduate of the Middlesex College of Medicine and Surgery, School of Podiatry, has opened an office at 455 Mass. ave. His office hours are 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. and on Saturday 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. and by appointment.

Every Wednesday Dr. Santurjian is conducting a free foot clinic for children under 14 years of age providing they are accompanied by their parents or an adult.

Medicine is going ahead so fast that new treatments are being discovered every day by eminent doctors and orthopedists who are on the research staff of Harvard, John Hopkins and many other high medical institutions. Dr. Santurjian, a recent graduate in Podiatry is armed with the knowledge of modern treatments for diseases and disturbances of the feet.

He is a firm believer that arch supports which are being sold by shoe store salesmen and others to patients afflicted with weak ankles and feet are unnecessary in 95 percent of the cases.

Hughes Warns Against Attack

To the Editor:

March 1, 1934

Dear Sir:

Rumors are prevalent that my opponent, Ernest W. Davis, candidate for Selectman on the Citizens' ticket may resort to eleventh hour propaganda and scurrilous attacks upon me. I appeal to the fair-minded citizens of Arlington who believe in clean politics not to be misled or unduly influenced by such tactics. My reputation, character and public record, I submit, are above reproach and in the interest of fair play I earnestly ask the good people of Arlington to resent any such actions on the part of the Citizens' committee and their supporters.

Very truly yours,
Albert E. Hughes,
Candidate for Selectman.

FRANK H. LANSING Candidate in Precinct 13

Among the candidates for Town Meeting Member in Precinct 13 appears the name of Frank H. Lansing of 32 Berkeley st. Mr. Lansing is well known in his precinct, where he is a home owner and tax payer. His popularity is manifested by the fact he is endorsed by two-thirds of the town meeting members of Precinct 13. He has been active in town affairs for some time and last year was author and co-sponsor of Articles 25 and 26 of the Town Warrant. These articles pertained to civic improvements in the district and received the unanimous favorable vote of the Town Meeting. Being a commuter to Boston via the Elevated, Mr. Lansing has consistently fought for better car service and has not hesitated to express his opinions in the local and Metropolitan press. Mr. Lansing is a member of the Arlington Civic Committee and the Arlington Chamber of Commerce. —Pol. Adv.

CITIZENS OF ARLINGTON

Our candidate for Selectman, Albert E. Hughes, Esq., has conducted a campaign free from slander, abuse or personal recriminations of any kind. His record in political life, in business and public office is above REPROACH, and warrants the commendation of all right thinking people. His own name and that of his parents before him was too well and favorably known by the people of Somerville to admit of any slanderous implications against his record in public service.

For twenty-seven years as practicing attorney of Somerville and for four years as member of the Board of Aldermen of said city he has not only carved an honorable record and reputation against which suspicion has never been raised except in the closing hours of this turbulent campaign. But he has acquired a thorough-going experience which equips him well for service on the Board of Selectmen of Arlington.

An old custom in the practise of law is when your case is strong to present the facts and stand upon them, but when your case is weak, to assail your opponent.

Mr. Hughes' character is above reproach and his long record in professional and civic life has stood the test of thorough investigation, and no one thus far has had the courage to attack him in this respect.

For an unbiased, efficient and progressive administration we urge you to vote for Mr. Albert E. Hughes for Selectman, believing that he is best fitted to serve the people of Arlington.

The plain fact, and the inescapable fact, is that all tricks and artifices of eleventh hour scheming politicians have been employed to deceive the people of Arlington, and to victimize them in order to procure the election of a Selectman who would be the catspaw of the tricky politicians behind the scenes. Beware, my good people of eleventh hour propaganda.

The people should concentrate their support upon Albert E. Hughes. Thus they will defeat this scheme to confuse and divide the people of Arlington. They will prove they have the intelligence and sagacity to avoid the treacheries of disinterested out-of-town citizens.

FROM MARGUERITE

Dear Daddy Sunshine:

This is a good day for writing letters. So I am going to write to you and Eleanor Silk. Well, I had a grand time at the party. Daddy took five of us over and he enjoyed it too. Baby Claire was very cunning. I hope you will be able to have another one soon.

Dear Daddy Sunshine:

I'm an old member (around 4 years) who has not written for a long time. Here are some riddles:

If a king kissed a queen, and a queen kissed a king, what building in London would it represent?

Why is a fretful man like a loaf of bread baked too much?

Why is a washerwoman like a navigator?

Why is the author the queerest animal in the world?

The other day I went into your office to see you, only you were out.

I was very sorry to miss the Washington party. I just bet it was good.

I haven't seen you for ages (about 3 years) and I haven't written for that long either, but now I'm starting. Ain't that sumptin'?

Yesterday it was my sister's birthday. She was six years old. We had a party last night and boy, did we have fun. She might write and tell you about it.

Driscoll Believes O'Leary Is Best Fitted For Office

Feb. 26, 1934.

To the Editor,

Arlington Daily News:

Sir:

The Feb. 23rd issue of the Daily News contained a letter from Mr. Charles Dennen Jr., advocating the election of Mr. Peter O'Neill to the office of Assessor. The reasons advanced by Mr. Dennen, were that Mr. O'Neill was born in Arlington, was employed by a large concern in Boston for many years and was a property owner, also was at present engaged in business in Arlington.

Mr. O'Neill deserves a lot of credit for his accomplishments, as do a few more thousand of our citizens who are endowed with the same virtues that are Mr. O'Neill's. The principal point, however, in attaining them, what experience or training is derived that qualifies anyone to seek the position of Assessor. Any man aspiring to the important office of Assessor, should be a qualified and trained expert in the field of real estate values and tax law. The question of taxation, especially during the present crisis of financial stringency, is a vital one, everybody pays taxes either directly or indirectly. Every person who rents an apartment, store, office or in fact a building of any kind should realize that included in every dollar of rent they pay, is their proportionate part of the taxes assessed against the property they occupy. It is therefore just as important to the rent payer as well as to the property owner, to only elect a man to the office of Assessor, who is thoroughly qualified to make expert and impartial appraisals for the purpose of taxation.

Mr. John D. O'Leary, the present chairman of the Board of Assessors, is a candidate for re-election. Mr. O'Leary was also born in Arlington, is a property owner, he has been engaged in the real estate business in Arlington for twenty-five years, he is a director of the Arlington Co-operative bank, he is a trained and qualified expert in the appraisal of property and an authority on tax law. His daily contact over a period of twenty-five years with all matters pertaining to real estate, has gained for him recognition outside of Arlington, as an authority on realty value; and he is frequently consulted for his expert advice on these matters. John O'Leary is also one of the fairest and squarest men ever elected to the Board of Assessors, a friend of those in adversity as well as to the affluent, he believes in giving everyone a square deal.

Here then are logical and genuine reasons as to why John D. O'Leary should have the support of every intelligent tax payer and rent payer in Arlington.

Wm. F. Driscoll.

World Gathering Of Rotarians Next June

"Rotary's 25th annual convention, with delegates present from some sixty countries, will be held in Detroit June 25-29.

Economic problems arising from the rapid changes in commerce, industry and finance will receive major consideration. The opening session will focus attention on these modern day problems. Subsequent sessions will consider the effect of these changes upon our community life, upon our businesses, and our international relationships.

The convention is called by John Nelson of Montreal, president of Rotary International, "a great economic conference, to survey Rotary's part in the restoration of world commerce to prosperous conditions."

"In every country," says President Nelson, "the activities of Rotary are bringing men together in friendship, in trust and in cooperation. In that common effort, we are mastering a new efficiency in facing and helping to solve the internal problems which require solution in every country."

"Those in governmental authority in dealing with their domestic problems are turning with increasing confidence to the Rotarians of their respective countries, knowing that Rotary club training can be applied with every hope of success to the larger duties of citizens."

"Rotarians have a tested experience in human relationships, the value of which has been established in thousands of communities throughout the world. This experience awaits opportunity and vindication in the larger field of national and world relationships."

The first plenary session will be called to order Monday afternoon, June 25, by President Nelson. Other plenary sessions will be held each morning, and afternoons will be occupied with informal conferences and discussions.

LOCAL MAN WRITES ABOUT KING'S CHAPEL

This article appeared in the Breckenridge News, Cloverport, Ky., recently. The Breckenridge News has just celebrated its 57th year, under one editor and publisher, John D. Babbage. Mr. Babbage is the second oldest editor in Ky.

Dear Editor:
In many of my letters to you I have referred to historic spots in Boston, and in some of these letters have written of Kings Chapel. This old Church stands on Tremont St., at the corner of School St., in the heart of Boston, within a few hundred feet of Boston Common, the Old Town House, the scene of the Boston Massacre, and old South Church, and very near the site of the Old Parker House.

It has stood there since 1689, for the first building was started June 30th, of that year. Kings Chapel was Anglican or Church of England, and the worshippers there were not popular with the Puritan or Pilgrim Fathers. They began their services in 1686 using Town House Library, and their first observance of the Lord's Supper was held in 1686. A Mr. Ratcliffe was pastor or rector of this first church. The members of this first parish demanded use of one of the existing churches (Congregational). This was refused but later Governor Edmund Andros forced the congregation of Old South to share their meeting house with the Church of England adherents, until their building was ready in 1689.

In 1693 the King of England sent gifts of carpets, Bibles and Prayer Books, and in 1696 the Decalogue, Lord's Prayer and Apostles Creed were sent over. These are now in the Chapel of Kings Chapel. In 1698 about two hundred books were sent over. Some of these volumes are now at the Boston Athenaeum. The first building was used until 1754 when a new stone church was erected, and it has stood there since, welcoming many thousands of worshippers, and some of the most notable Divines have preached from the old original pulpit. The building was designed by Peter Harrison of Newport, R. I. He had designed Redwood Library in Newport, which still stands on Bellevue Avenue, not far from Old Trinity Church and the Old State House. In 1768 Mrs. Elizabeth Rogers presented a Bible to Kings Chapel, which has lain on the reading desk ever since and has been in constant use. A funeral service was held in this Church for General Joseph Warren, who was killed June 17, 1775 at the battle of Bunker Hill, as he was leading his men. General Warren was the physician in the Aams family. The family that gave our country two presidents, numerous diplomats and cabinet officers.

Visitors to Boston find Kings Chapel and the Old Burying Ground adjoining it, interesting places. One can spend an hour or so in this, and the old Granary Burying ground across the Tremont St., just east of Old Park Street Church. They can find the graves of Mayflower passengers, early Governors of the Colony, notable Ministers and Patriots, such as Paul Revere, Robert Treat Payne, Samuel Adams and others of that day. After browsing about in these old cemeteries he can slip in to this quaint old church surrounded by modern buildings and the rushing business of a great city. He can examine the relics and read the inscriptions. Then in the quietness, (for the thick stone walls shut out the city noises) he can meditate and rest. His mind is apt to wander back across the years, and he may see in memory, the fine old men and women of those ancient days who worshipped there, and the famous preachers who have stood in the old pulpit.

present. Then his mind might turn to the events that took place within half a mile of this old Church, that changed and shaped the course of our history. Perhaps his meditations may be disturbed by the plaintive strains of an ancient organ, and he will be reminded that the first organ installed in a church in America was set up right there in Kings Chapel. Not the one he is listening to, which is an old one, but another. I will give you a brief history of the first organ a little later. Perhaps some who read this may go out of their way when in Boston to visit Kings Chapel. If they do I am sure they will love the old Church.

Reverend John Carroll Perkins D.D., said of the Church, "The building tells its own story." Its architectural perfection and sacred associations make it at once interesting. In 1930 Dean Mathews of Kings College, London, came to Boston and preached in Kings Chapel. When he entered the Church and walked down the aisle, he stopped suddenly and said to his companions, "This looks like a place that has been prayed in." Dean Mathews was the first Royal Chaplain to preach in Boston since 1776. Professor Francis G. Peabody who was brought up in this church, said of it, "It was not made by its preaching, however eloquent, or by its architecture, however beautiful; but by the subtle atmosphere which has always prevailed here, of reverence, of piety and of prayer. I thank God that I was born into a church which must be peculiarly described as worshipping. The thick granite walls, built with integrity, corinthian columns, shaped in lines of beauty, laws of proportion observed with consecrated care, all have their part, and even if the busy traffic on the crowded streets outside beat against these walls there is calm, peace and yet within like that of a holy shrine." He goes on to say more of this ancient structure and its contribution to the life of the nation. I couldn't resist quoting the above, they are beautiful words expressing a beautiful sentiment.

Back in 1709 Thomas Brattle a Boston merchant, who was a trustee of Harvard College, also its Treasurer, decided he would like to see an organ installed in Brattle Square Church, or Meeting House, he accordingly ordered one shipped out from England. The people of Brattle Square Meeting House opposed his plan, so the organ was set up in his home. The organ was called "The Devils Bag Pipes" by some in the little community, some called it "A Box of Whistles." Thomas Brattle later bequeathed this organ to the church in Brattle Square, with the following proviso, "I give, dedicate and devote my organ to the praise and glory of God in the Brattle Square Church, if they shall accept thereof, and within a year after my decease, shall procure a better person that can play skillfully thereon, with a loud noise; otherwise the Church of England (Kings Chapel) in this town on the same terms and conditions, and on their non-acceptance or discontinuance as before, I give the same to my nephew William Brattle." The officers and members of Brattle Square Church refused the gift as unworthy for the worship of God, even though they had accepted the land from Mr. Brattle on which the building stood. The congregation of Kings Chapel accepted the organ, but there were some dissenters and it was stored in the tower seven or eight months before it was put in place. In the fall of 1714, a year after Mr. Brattle's death, the old instrument was ready for use and was played by a Mr. Price, who volunteered his services.

The congregation felt they should have an English organist, so after consulting Colonel Redknapp of London, arrangements were made for Edward Enston of Tower Hill, London, to come to Boston for three years to play the organ in Kings Chapel. The salary agreed on was thirty pounds, sterling per year, about one hundred and fifty dollars in our money. He was allowed to teach music to help out with his expenses. He came to Boston December 1st, 1714. He was retained there for many years, and is remembered as the first real musician to take up residence in America.

The old organ was used in Kings Chapel for more than forty years. In 1756 it was sold to St. Paul's Parish in Newburyport, Mass., another old city on the coast near the New Hampshire line, just where the Merrimack River enters into the sea. St. Paul's used the organ until 1836, a period of eighty years. Then a Dr. Burroughs purchased it for St. John's Church up in Portsmouth, New Hampshire. It was used there for many years, but was finally replaced by a modern instrument. The story runs on farther, and describes the organ, key board, frame, stops and pipes, but your readers would not be interested in the description of those parts, even if I knew enough about organs or remembered enough of the story to repeat it.

The record gives the name of the first owner and the first player, but no one seems to know who built this organ, or just when it was built. The outer case was renewed in this country by a Mr. Edwards, using Honduras mahogany of light finish. The rest of the instrument is unchanged, made of English oak. Musicians say the tones are sweet and mellow even now, and that the old organ is still capable of producing good music.

There is another old organ in Boston, the property of the Bostonian Society, called the Oliver Holden organ. It is in the old State House on Washington St. Last March the Bostonian Society held a meeting there, and this old organ was unlocked and played by James L. Bruce. He used sheet music a hundred years old. This was the first time in many years this old instrument had been used. There are many places of historic interest in Boston worth seeing, and if you or any of your readers come this way, visit Kings Chapel, Old South, Old North and Dorchester Meeting House, also Christ Church in Cambridge. North Church was made famous by Paul Revere's act of hanging a signal light in the tower on the eve of April 19th, 1775. This act has been immortalized by Longfellow's poem, Paul Revere's Ride. —W. B. H., Arlington.

PLANNING NOVENA

Since March, 1928 a solemn world-wide novena is made every year between the 10th and the 19th of March. Hundreds of thousands of St. Joseph's clients throughout the world participate in this Solemn Novena. St. Joseph has answered these prayers with remarkable favor.

To join this novena, one has only to send his intentions to the following address, Saint Joseph's Shrine, Cote-des-Neiges, Montreal, Que., where they are placed before the statue of St. Joseph during the novena. Medal and novena leaflet sent on request.

High School Notes

By R. H. D.
Another school vacation has gone drawing us nearer and nearer to that fateful day in June when we will know if we are to get by for the year.

Report cards will be issued after school today to the great joy of some and bitter disappointment of others.

All Year Book glossies must be made by the Purdy Studio and handed in no later than March 15.

Collecting students' graduation pictures seems to be a hobby with some members of the Senior class.

The Literature Club will study some of the many negro stories and poems at the meeting to be held today in the school library.

An exhibit by the Stamp Club is being held at the public library. It might pay you to stroll around and look it over.

It is rather unfortunate that more enthusiasm isn't shown by the Stamp Club members. No club can exist long if the supporters fail to show up at the meetings.

"All 'ayes" are in favor. The "Cats Meow" probably the only non-scholastic paper of its kind in this vicinity and issued by students, came out yesterday. After reading the advertisements of it along the avenue near the school, the paper certainly lived up to its promise.

The Mellor Brothers still seem to be leading men's fashions at school. We haven't quite decided this question among the girls. There appears to be too much competition.

When asked what P. G. stood for, a young person piped up, "Postponed Graduation."

With The Kiwanians

The speaker yesterday was Chester Chan, of the Chinese educational department of the Boston Y. M. C. A. In the Chinatown section of Boston there are between six and seven hundred children who after school hours are thrown on the streets. Mr. Chan's work is to see that these children are taken care of in so far as recreation is concerned. In regard to the Tong Wars, of which we hear very little now, these are little or nothing but a small edition of the methods used by some big business men who desire a monopoly on certain lines of business. Members of the Tong are the strong armed men employed by Chinese business men to eliminate or "rub-out" competition, the speaker said.

Past President, Jack O'Leary, took down his skis and slid down from the Heights to attend the directors' meeting today.

The writer, after having two of Wyman's special dinners today, is feeling in the pink of condition, and will call Norman and console him for his lack of appetite.

Jim Smith and Tom O'Donnell are arranging a golf match for April 19th. Jim says when business is good, no golf—so he ended the arrangements with this, "I'd like to play, but hope I can't."

What a man!

Local Man Injured In Safety Island Crash; Is Arrested

Last Friday proved to be his unlucky day for Chester C. Main, 55, of 425 Summer St. Driving an automobile in which his wife was also riding, Main crashed into a safety island on Massachusetts ave at Rice St in North Cambridge. The car tipped over and both occupants had to be extricated from it, the driver receiving injuries.

Mr. Main was taken to the Municipal Hospital and treated for lacerations on the forehead. He was the operator of the car.

When the machine struck the island the blinker post was tipped; but not knocked over. Patrolman Jerome V. Henley, Boston Elevated car boy, and a group of passengers from a street car righted the automobile and pulled out the occupants.

Main was arrested by Officer Henley for alleged drunkenness, operating an automobile while under the influence of liquor and driving so as to endanger. The case was continued to March 7.

Wyman Is Honored By Associates

Six years of faithful service to the Town as a Selectman were brought to a fitting climax last Tuesday evening when Arthur P. Wyman, retiring chairman of the board was tendered a surprise party at Wyman's English Tavern.

Tuesday evening marked the last joint-board meeting for Mr. Wyman. Following the meeting, other members of the joint-board with several town officials gathered at the Tavern to surprise the guest of honor. Mr. Wyman will preside over the Board of Selectmen for the last time next Monday evening.

Leonard Collins, also member of the board and next year's chairman, was master of ceremonies, and after the dinner he presented Mr. Wyman a set of pipes and a generous supply of tobacco from the associates in the Selectmen's office, George H. Lowe, Jr., being the other member of the board; James J. Golden, Jr., secretary of the board, and John L. Murphy, town counsel. Mrs. Wyman, who was also a guest of honor, was presented a bouquet of roses.

Selectman Lowe presented Mr. Wyman a complete set of matched golf sticks and bag, this gift coming from past members of the board, present members and heads of various town departments. Mr. Wyman responded very gracefully. The affair was a complete surprise and the guest was visibly affected.

Other speakers were Edward T. Ryan, chairman of the Board of Public Works; John E. Mitchell and Ralph Adams of the Board of Public Works, William O. Lauer and Luke Manning, formerly members of the board; James R. Smith, formerly a member of the Board of Public Works; Town Clerk Miss E. Caroline Pierce, Town Engineer James E. Keane, Chief Daniel B. Tierney of the Fire Department, Chief Archie F. Bullock of the Police Department, Harold Estabrook of the Finance Committee, Building and Wire Inspector William E. Mason, Town Counsel John L. Murphy, Supt. James Carmody of the Town Hall, Town Accountant Clarence Needham, Town Physician Dr. Feeley and the secretary for the board, James J. Golden.

Tower Mothers Have Meeting

The Tower Mothers' Club held their meeting last Monday night, which was Father's Night, at the home of Mrs. Keith Fulton, 19

Hawthorne avenue. A violin solo by Miss Phyllis Edwards accompanied by Miss Audrey Lester featured the meeting. A reading by Miss Gladys White of Brookline was enjoyed. The speaker was Lyman Allen on "A Wise Use of Leisure Time." Refreshments were served.

Graham, Harrigan With Oldsmobile Firm In Arlington

George R. Graham and James M. Harrigan, both well-known in Arlington have joined the sales organization of the F. K. Johnson company, Oldsmobile distributor in this town.

Mr. Graham has had seven years experience selling automobiles in Arlington while Mr. Harrigan has been in the automobile business here for the past four years. Both have a large following locally and have made many friendly associations serving the local public. They will gladly meet their many friends at the Oldsmobile salesroom, 745 Massachusetts avenue, next to the Colonial Garage, Gordon B. Seavey is manager of the local office.

Lax and Rowe Only Scorers As B. U. Wins

With Johnny Lax and Paul Rowe, both former Arlington High stars, scoring all the points between them, Boston University defeated Brown to win their fifth ice victory in a row by a 4-2 count, in a roaring battle at the Arena last Tuesday night. The two teams were evenly matched, and it was a fast melee from start to finish.

Boston University men pushed the game from the start, and were on the offensive during practically all of the initial session. The Bruin ice men hardly got by their opponents' blue line with the puck throughout the period, while the Terriers were raining the Brown net with shots from all angles, and only the great work of Paul Howard in the visitors' goal saved the team from taking it badly on the chin at the outset. A strong rally in the final period brought victory to the Terriers.

Welfare Show At Robbins Town Hall

A regular meeting of the Welfare Council was held last Friday. Reports of officers and committees were read and accepted. All members were requested to make a special effort to sell tickets for the entertainment Tuesday evening, March 13. The sale has started well but many more tickets must be sold. Owing to the fact that a great deal of the floor space in the Auditorium of the old Town Hall has been taken for small offices, it was decided to have the moving pictures at the Robbins Memorial Town Hall.

RKO KEITH'S THEATRE

RKO Keith's Theatre announces, "that the film hit, 'It Happened One Night' which co-stars Clark Gable and Claudette Colbert, will be held over for a second week."

Taken from the Cosmopolitan Magazine story by Samuel Hopkins Adams, "It Happened One Night" actually crackles with wit. Never have Clark Gable and Claudette Colbert been seen to better advantage. That grand old actor, Walter Connolly, is superb as the wealthy father of a somewhat impetuous daughter. Frank Capra, recognized as one of the foremost directors in Hollywood, wielded the megaphone for this Columbia hit.

MODERN THEATRE

With a star-studded cast, headed by such stellar performers as Janet Gaynor, Lionel Barrymore, Henrietta Crossman, Robert Young and Richard Cromwell, Fox Films will present its latest release "Carolina" at the Modern Theatre starting Saturday. The film will remain for one week only. The production is so magnificent in scope and so dramatic in theme, that it necessitated the use of a cast of seven great stars to do it justice.

The picture is taken from the story "The House of Connelly" written by Paul Green.

As a companion feature, the Modern will present "He Couldn't Take It" with Ray Walker, Virginia Cherrill (Mrs. Cary Grant), George E. Stone and others.

PARAMOUNT AND FENWAY

"I've Got Your Number," the widely heralded Warner Bros. picture dealing with the romance of the telephone, the feature attraction at the Paramount & Fenway Theatres for the coming week.

The screen play by Warren Duff and Sidney Sutherland pictures in sweeping panorama the vital activities of telephone employees in their contacts with the public and with each other.

Also on the same program at both theatres is Fox Film's sensational animal-adventure picture "Devil Tiger." This picture was directed by Cyce E. Elliott, director of "Bring 'Em Back Alive" and is just as thrilling.

Young People Have Progressive Dinner

A progressive dinner party was enjoyed by a group of popular High school girls and boys on Washington's Birthday.

The party started at the home of Lois Hackett where the hors d'oeuvres were served. From there they went to the home of Sally Woele where the soup course awaited them. Then the main course was enjoyed at Beverly MacDonald's house.

At the home of Frances Locatelli, they were served dessert. The remainder of the evening was spent in dancing at Elena Shinn's.

The other guests were Betty Shedd, Virginia Sullivan, Sonny Walsh, Virginia MacDonald, Richard Hayes, Raymond Merrill, Carver Nickerson, Malcolm Campbell and John Fillmore.

LOEW'S STATE THEATRE

Robert Montgomery, in the role of a gentleman crook, is starred in "Mystery of Mr. X," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's exciting new picture dealing with a series of startling police murders in London, which is the feature attraction at Loew's State theatre this week.

Laurel & Hardy are presented as an extra addition in their latest comedy howl, "Oliver the VIII" in which the full gamut of their imitable actions are seen. Another highly interesting short subject is presented in Edwin C. Hill's "The Human Side of the News." The latest issue of Hearst Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's program.

Because of the many requests for the State patrons Adrian O'Brien, peer of local radio stars, is held over for a second week in a new program of song favorites.

On Sunday there will be six acts featuring the State theatre orchestra directed by Arthur Gelsler in addition to the regular picture attractions.

LOEW'S ORPHEUM THEATRE

Ramon Novarro and Jeanette MacDonald, the screen's foremost romantic singing stars, are co-starring together for the first time in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's beautiful musical romance, "The Cat and the Fiddle," which, together with six big acts of vaudeville, complete the entertaining program at Loew's Orpheum theatre this week.

Headlining the vaudeville show is a spectacular Oriental presentation starring Ching Ling Foo, Jr. and Company billed as the Chinese Wonder Workers. Buster Shaver with those two lilliputians, Olive and George are next on the bill in a smart singing and dancing program with Harry "Zoupp" Welsh next in a hilarious comedy sketch entitled "Two Eggs," in which he is ably assisted by Bobby Taylor. Other acts include Kirby and Duval in "Laff-Effectually Yours," Ed Blum and his sister in a musical treat and a personable Bob Nelson who is billed as an extra added attraction.

METROPOLITAN THEATRE

Continuing their schedule of important entertainment programs, the management of the Metropolitan theatre offers another triple feature bill for the week beginning Friday, March 2nd. The screen fare stars Kay Francis in the pre-release First National attraction, "Mandala," with Ricardo Cortez and Lyle Talbot. To the stage comes a gala array of stellar entertainers coupled with a lavish Scott Furriers' fashion show in one of the season's most unusual footlight presentations.

Heading the huge cast is Will Mahoney, famous star of Earl Carroll's "Vanities" and Lucille Page, another glamorous star of the Earl Carroll show.

The stage revue, another of the special attractions announced earlier in the season, is a combination of famous stars and lavish styles under the title of "Vogues and Fancies." The cast of the revue stars Will Mahoney and features Lucille Page, dancing star of the "Vanities," St. Clair and Dade, Wilfred Du Bois, Verna Burke, radio network star, and the popular Elida Ballet. Mahoney will present his sensational "Mahoneyphone" dance which has won for him the tremendous popularity he now enjoys. Into this colorful stage setting, Dame Fashion goes on parade in Scott Furriers' lavish fashion and style revue, bringing to Metropolitan patrons the very latest modes for midday.

Lane Receives Highest Honor At Princeton

Arthur S. Lane, leader of the championship Princeton football eleven last fall, was awarded the Pyne Honor Prize, the highest distinction Princeton University can confer upon an undergraduate, at the annual meeting of the National Alumni last week.

Awarded for the first time in 1922, the Pyne prize has become a yearly institution. It is open to that member of the senior class who, in the opinion of the president and other university officials, has most clearly manifested the following qualifications: Excellent scholarship, many qualities and effective support of the best interests of Princeton University.

Lane has had a colorful career at Princeton, serving as president of his class for all four years as well as heading the Undergraduate Council, which is the student governing body. In addition he is chairman of the committee on the honor system, a member of the discipline committee and of the board of directors of the Student-Faculty Association, and president of the Catholic Club.

He has been a regular member of the hockey and football teams for three years as well as captain of both in his freshman year. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Lane, and is the eldest of 11 children. Lane prepared at Exeter after graduating from Arlington High School.

HECTIC CAMPAIGN

A monster torchlight parade starting at 7 o'clock sharp will leave Medford at headquarters for the purpose of making a tour of the Town. All supporters of the Civic Committee are requested to report at Medford with automobiles. The following candidates endorsed by the Arlington Civic Committee will be present to address the gathering: Peter F. O'Neill for Assessor; School Committee, Joseph J. Bevinis and Russell A. Crozier; Park Commissioners, Paul C. Griffin and Joseph M. Cormier; Planning Board, Henry E. Keenan and Edward G. Kelley.

Economy Platform

The Arlington Citizens' Committee has completed its last week of the current campaign, and now rests confident of the result of the election on Monday. It closed with a rally at the Junior High School East last night at which time most of the candidates were heard. The campaign has been conducted on the platform of Economy and Efficiency, and the Citizens' Committee slate is pledged to three two essentials of good town government. Ernest Davis has served Arlington well as Chairman of the Planning Committee, giving the town a guiding hand that few other municipalities have had the opportunity to experience.

Loren Marsh, for six years a member of the Board of Public Works, is ready to give the Town three years more of service.

Judge Brackett, Citizens' Committee candidate for Moderator, can bring to that position the experience of a life-time in the legal profession, and also the experience gained from fifteen years as Moderator of Arlington in the years gone by. The Committee feels Mr. O'Leary stands on his record of three years of fine service as an Assessor.

KEITH BOSTON THEATRE

A beautifully mounted, fast-moving musical comedy extravaganza, "The Greenwich Village Follies," starring York and King and fifty entertainers, is announced as the huge stage show billed for the Keith-Boston Theatre, today while the screen will feature "The Lost Patrol" with Victor McLaglen and a big cast.

The eighteen scenes employed throughout the revue follow in spirited succession. Comedy, song and dance specialties are offered alternately before the soft curtains and more elaborate stage settings.

The savage menace of the desert with its blazing sun and blinding sandstorms, and the varied emotions of eleven men facing inevitable death at the hands of unseen enemies, are woven into "The Lost Patrol," a powerful and unforgettable screen classic with Victor McLaglen, Boris Karloff, Reginald Denny, Alan Hale and other distinguished film luminaries.

Troop To Have Ceremonial

Troop Nine Boy Scouts held a successful overnight hike at Camp Oak last Wednesday and Thursday. The hike was under the direction of Junior Asst. Scoutmasters Robert Spence and Theodore Siker. The following Scouts comprised the party: Erving Pangborn, Arthur Ryholm, Carl Winget, and Fred Taddeo.

The troop charter ceremonial is to be held Tuesday, March 6, under the direction of Scout Commissioner Woodward. This is the twelfth year of the troop's existence in Arlington. The leaders have the following record. Rev. Warren N. Bixby is a fifteen year veteran while Scoutmaster William Connell and Assistant Scoutmaster Warren Hunt are ten year veterans and Junior Assistant Scoutmasters Christian Madison, Theodore Siker, and Robert Spence are five year veterans.

Nutrition Specialist Will Give Food Hints In Lecture

The Southern Middlesex Health Association has arranged to have Miss Marie Wells, a nutrition specialist from the Middlesex County Extension Service, conduct a food forum on "How Economically A Family Can Live and Preserve Its Health."

Miss Wells will give a short talk explaining buying to the best advantage, daily foods necessary and suggested ways of preparing and serving foods attractively.

Bradshaw Union To Meet Monday

The Bradshaw Friendly Union of the Orthodox Congregational Church will hold their monthly meeting Monday, March 5. There will be no Executive Board Meeting. The afternoon meeting will be in charge of Mrs. Stanley Cook, the guest speaker will be Dr. Rose Beales.

Mrs. Charles Moore's group will be hostesses for the supper at 6.30, and the evening entertainment will be in charge of Miss Hunter whose subject will be "Women: Now and Then."

Arrested After Auto Accident

One person was injured and two others shaken up in an auto accident which led to the arrest of one of the operators here last Wednesday evening.

Ralph Meagher, of 32 Holland st., Somerville, received injuries to his head, Lena F. Shaw and Mrs. Jennie Shaw, both of 163 Jason st., riding in the auto operated by Grace Pierce of that address, were badly shaken up. Arthur O'Neill, of 17 Bow st., operator of the other car was charged with drunkenness by the police. Both cars were damaged in the collision which occurred at Broadway and Alton st.

New Arrivals At Symmes Hospital

The following births were recorded at the office of Town Clerk E. Caroline Pierce this week:

A son to Mr. and Mrs. Warren K. Hadley of 24 Dundee rd., Arlington.

A son to Mr. and Mrs. James J. McGough of 23 Fairmont st., Arlington.

A daughter to Mr. and Mrs. George E. McMurray, of 28 Staunton rd., Belmont.

A son to Mr. and Mrs. Jess T. Melanson of 40 Webowet rd., Arlington.

A daughter to Mr. and Mrs. John J. Reidy of 517 Powder House rd., Somerville.

A daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Webb, of 22 Pleasant st., Arlington. All births took place at the Symmes Hospital.

Bevinis Addresses High School Alumni

A meeting of the Arlington Alumni Association was held at Wyman's Tavern, Wednesday evening. At the business meeting it was announced that the minstrel presented in town a short time ago and in Central sq. would be repeated between features at the Capitol theatre on March 12, 13, and 14 evenings.

Joseph Bevinis, a former Arlington High school teacher and coach, and now a member of the School Committee gave a very interesting talk on the need of the Alumni in Arlington and an experience of his own Alumni.

The next interesting event planned by the Alumni is a St. Patrick's dance to be given at the Junior High East gym on March 17.

Mrs. Sherwood Addresses Club

A most interesting talk on "Our Ant Army" by Mrs. Elsie I. Sherwood of Dedham, was enjoyed by the Junior Garden Club recently. Ruth Mellin gave the flower biography of the "Tulip."

The meeting was in charge of Miss Jean Simpson in the absence of Mrs. Shaw, with the president, Mildred Zwicker, presiding.

The next meeting, March 9th, will be a pilgrimage through Anderson's greenhouses. Members meet there at four o'clock.

Loren Marsh Answers Letter

To the Editor of
Arlington Daily News

Dear Sir:

I note in your issue of last week, a letter written by Mr. Edward Ryan in which Mr. Ryan insinuates that some deal was made or promise given by me to Mr. George D. Carpenter in exchange for his withdrawal from the contest for member of Board of Public Works.

Mr. Carpenter is an architect. The Board of Public Works does not employ architects. If I am elected to the Board, I see no reason to expect that I would have any more influence with the Board of Selectmen than Mr. Ryan has had, even though the majority of the Selectmen are politically affiliated with Mr. Ryan.

I think that Mr. Ryan might credit me with the same degree of intelligence and knowledge which he professed in the matter of Mr. Carpenter's desire to be appointed Building Inspector a year ago.

I have stated publicly on several occasions and I now thank Mr. Ryan for giving me this opportunity to reiterate it as on this occasion.

I have made no promises of position, employment, or personal favor to any person, directly or indirectly which may in any way be contingent upon my election except the general statement which follows.

If elected, I shall give to the town every faculty which I possess in an endeavor to obtain the best service from the town in which I have had the honor to serve for nearly six years.

I believe that my record is clear, and above reproach or insinuation and I shall appreciate your giving this letter publicity in your next issue.

Yours very truly,
Loren W. Marsh

Union Lenten Services Here

Containing their practice of recent years four center churches, First Baptist, Orthodox Congregational, Unitarian and Universalist are uniting in a series of Sunday evening Lenten services on the four Sunday evenings in March.

The service next Sunday evening at 7 will be held in the First Baptist Church and the preacher will be the Rev. Rubens Rea Hadley, minister of the Universalist Church, and who is to speak on "Seeking Our Leader."

Ministers of the cooperating churches will assist in the conduct of the service and a special musical program has been arranged by the entertaining church.

No Awards Yet For Basketball Teams

The town basketball league will soon close and the A. A.'s Big Red seems to have won the senior group with the juniors fighting out among themselves for top honors. The Cardinals seem to have too much class for any of the other outfits.

The political parties don't seem to be giving this league any attention as far as winning emblems go. Last year the two prominent givers were George Lowe and Mr. Mitchell and also Mr. Murray. Jimmy Knox of course upheld tradition and donated a beautiful trophy.

Arlington basketball teams are not appreciated and one wonders now far a team has to go to gain attention from the fans.

To Attend Hearing On More Road Work

The Arlington Joint-board of selectmen and public works and Town Engineer James Keane will attend a hearing called by the County Commissioners at the East Cambridge courthouse next Friday morning at 10 o'clock relative to reconstruction and specific repairs on Mystic st. from Massachusetts ave to the Winchester line. Summer st. from Mystic to Brattle sts and Park ave from Lowell st to the Belmont line. This work, if approved, will be done this year, the State and County sharing the expense with the Town.

Laura Hallisey Minstrels Will Appear At Capitol

A variety of excellent entertainment will be given in a good old-time Minstrel Show under the direction of Laura A. Hallisey at the Capitol Theatre, Arlington, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, March 12-13-14. Mrs. Hallisey recently directed a Minstrel Show at Junior High East which was so successful that it was decided to augment the huge cast and present the show at the Capitol. Over one hundred Arlingtonians will be in the cast and the "Alton Four" of radio fame, Hy Arheiter, Hugh Graham, Ed and Vin Hawkins will be billed as Endmen.

Jerome B. Harrison, manager of the Capitol Theatre is enthusiastic over the excellent work of Miss Hallisey and the entire cast and promises enjoyable entertainment on the stage of the Capitol as well as on the screen. To feature pictures will be shown with the minstrels, "Clart Bow in 'Hoopa'" and "Eliasa Landi and Paul Lukas in 'By Candlelight'."

HUGHES SPEAKER

that the Civic Committee is not connected in any way with any other organization in Arlington, it being a one hundred per cent non-partisan committee and endorsing candidates from any or all parties.

Mr. McManus then introduced the following candidates who received a hearty ovation: Albert E. Hughes for Selectman; Edward T. Ryan, Board of Public Works; Peter F. O'Neill, Assessor; Joseph J. Bevinis, School Committee; Paul C. Griffin and Joseph M. Cormier, for Park Commissioners; Henry E. Keenan and Edward G. Kelley for Planning Board.

After the candidates presented their qualifications and plans for the betterment of this town, Mrs. Barry assisted by friends served a collation and Joe Barry ended the meeting by singing a campaign song that he composed for Mr. Hughes.

FORMER ALDERMAN

stand with any political party. This applies to most everybody with the exception of Mr. Hughes, who, by the public records, has been a member of all parties, including Independent, Democratic, Republican and now a Democrat again. So like the man without a country, Mr. Hughes appears to be a man without a party, in other words, an opportunist.

A large number of my friends reside in Arlington and many of them have asked me for information as to the qualifications of Mr. Hughes, to which I have responded, both by letter and by phone. In view of this "apparent" public demand and the fact that all of the people of Arlington should know something about him and his qualifications I submit the following:

Mr. Hughes, when he left Somerville, was practically a political outcast as evidenced by the fact that he was refused the presidency of the Board of Aldermen, which, by tradition long established, he should have acquired. Why did his fellow members of the Board of Aldermen deny him this honor?

He was denied the nomination for representative to the State Legislature, in his last attempt for public office. Why did the people in his district refuse to give him this honor?

Is it not reasonable to assume that the public lost confidence in Mr. Hughes as a result of so many idle promises?

His promise, for instance, of better car service seems to be another idle promise, in view of the fact that I have attended practically every hearing before the Public Utilities Commission and committees of the Legislature relative to car service and never, at any time, have I seen Mr. Hughes present during the past ten years. Nowhere in the records can I find his name as having appeared before either of these bodies advocating better service.

In conclusion, if I were a citizen of Arlington, I could not conscientiously vote for Mr. Hughes, on his public record.

Yours very truly,
George J. Moran,

Says Young Men Needed For Board

To the Voters of Arlington:

Henry E. Keenan, who is running for the office of Planning Board, has received my support because of his following qualifications:

He was born and educated in real estate and insurance business in the town for the past 12 years. His practical training in the real estate business, in addition to his legal training, should be an asset to the present Planning Board. He also studied town planning and zoning at Harvard Business School and Boston University to assist him in his business, which shows a decided interest in his profession.

Mr. Keenan can always be found every day at his office in Arlington, where he expresses his willingness to meet anyone to talk over the future development of the town for the benefit of the town. He has not entered the campaign for the office with any criticism of the present hard-working Board, nor with any personal feelings against any of its present members, but with the whole thought that a young man who has a vital interest in the development of his home town, in harmony with the best interests of all should be a member of this Board.

John H. Day,
17 Albermarle st.,
Arlington.

Arlington Girls Are Initiated In Rainbow Assembly

At the meeting of the Belmont Assembly of Rainbow Girls last Saturday night a number of Arlington girls, daughters of Masons, were initiated. They were: Miss Carolyn Boyd, Ruth Brison, Grace Casteels, Marjorie Curcio, Charlotte Curtis, Pauline Yeaton and Virginia Hoffman.

After the meeting through the courtesy of the Belmont & Ohio details of the coming trip to Washington during the Spring vacation in April under the direction of Mrs. Luella McCausland, Mother Advisor of the Assembly, was explained by colored slides and a talk by Mr. Foote who will conduct the party. Those who are interested in such a trip either school girls and boys or adults may learn full details by calling Mrs. McCausland at her residence 39 Newport st., Arlington.

An attractive Style Show and bridge is scheduled for the evening of March 1, at Payson Hall, Belmont. The models will all be Rainbow Girls, dresses and gowns from the Goodell Shop, Belmont and Cambridge.

Aldrich Dance Pupils Enjoy Holiday Party

Last Saturday the Frances Aldrich dancing classes held their mid-season parties in the G. A. R. hall. Though it was an extremely cold day, there was a large attendance.

Alice Thomas and Julie Dolan and Miss Aldrich herself presented a spectacular Flag Dance in honor of George Washington's Birthday which delighted the children, then the Bables demonstrated some of their steps and the boys gave a Tap Routine learned this year.

The social classes were very colorful and the young ladies in lovely semi-evening gowns were most attractive. The entertainment by Frank Lane was enthusiastically received by the class members and their guests, laughed and applauded his magic and humor almost continuously.

Elimination and novelty dances were won by Harriet Cargill and Samuel Prestjohn; Judith White and Eileen Garrity; Nancy Shay and Bernard Whalen; Phyllis Rees and David Nickerson, and a balloon contest by Arthur Harding. Refreshments were served and hats, noisemakers and balloons distributed among all present. Excellent music was furnished by Mrs. Frank Swett and such a good time was had by all that another party is now planned for early in April.

First Aid Class For CWA Workers

A first aid class has been formed in Arlington by the employees of the CWA under the supervision of the Red Cross, the purpose being to protect injured employees. At the termination of the class Arlington will have a qualified first aid man on every project in case of an accident.

The first aid work has been formed under the supervision of Lewis MacBryne, State Director of Safety together with the cooperation of Nell S. Peters, Executive Secretary of the local CWA. The instruction has been given by Captain Richard Tierney assisted by Captain Charles Flynn of the local Fire Department.

FEDERAL SUPPLIES ARE DISTRIBUTED TO NEEDY

Local needy families whose names are on the Town's welfare list have received a tremendous amount of foodstuffs, fuel and blankets supplied by the Federal Emergency Relief during the past two months. All commodities were distributed by Clifford W. Cook, local welfare agent, directly from his office in the old Robins House while the coal was delivered from three Arlington coal yards.

During January and February, Arlington's needy families have received from the Federal government a total of 940 tons of coal, 460 dozen eggs, 4,000 pounds of salt pork, 410 pounds of beans, 2,835 pounds of butter, 276 pounds of smoked pork, 276 twenty-four-pound bags of flour and 152 cans of roast beef. The roast beef was distributed today. In addition, the welfare agent has received 120 pairs of blankets which were distributed to needy families last Monday, the day of the big storm so that the extra bedding proved most welcome.

All these foodstuffs and supplies are distributed under strict Federal regulations and every item must be accounted for so that there is assurance that those most worthy are receiving the Federal contributions. Every receipt of food signs a receipt which is then turned over to state authorities acting for the Federal government.

Food and fuel from the Federal agency is supplementary to the weekly allowance given by the Town. Food orders are not cut down so whatever is allotted by Washington authorities is additional to what regularly received from the town. Because of the severe winter this has helped families considerably.

Dadmun Hopes To Serve Town On School Committee

Approached by several citizens who have the best interest of the town at heart and convinced that he can do his part to promote the welfare of the community, Harrie P. Dadmun consented to seek office of the School Committee. He made clear this week, Mr. Dadmun is endorsed by the Citizens' Committee in the March election.

Mr. Dadmun was captain of the 1916 Harvard football team and chosen in that year as guard on Walter Camp's All American Football team. After graduating from Arlington public school in 1912 and before entering Harvard, Mr. Dadmun spent one year at Tufts College.

In 1917 he organized a group of Harvard students as volunteers in the American Field Service and served under the French Army in the Ambulance Service for a six months period. At the expiration of that time he enlisted in the U. S. Naval Reserve and served during the remainder of the war in the Transport Service, retiring with the commission of Lieutenant Junior Grade.

He then entered the Harvard Law School in 1919 completing a special one year term and subsequently went into business. He is now President of Lang & Dadmun, Inc., Investment Bankers at 30 Congress st., Boston.

Mr. Dadmun is well known as a football official. He has officiated in many of the inter-collegiate and inter-scholastic football games played in New England during the past fifteen years. He lives on Robbins rd.

Lively Play To Mark First Anniversary Of St. James' Group

The St. James Dramatic Club is marking its first anniversary with the production of a three-act comedy, "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling," which will be presented in St. James' Hall on Anneton at March 16. The club, which was organized only about a year ago, has already won a name for successful and diversified entertainment, and this new play, presented for the first time on any stage, promises to add further prestige.

An experienced and competent cast under the capable direction of Rev. Gerald Hennessey, has been in rehearsal for some time on this new play, the script of which was released only a few weeks ago. Members of the cast include Helen Greeley, William Curley, James Colgan, Mrs. Kathryn Kelley, Mrs. Helen C. Greeley, George MacFarlane, Lillian Leverone, Katherine Gallacher, Katherine Donovan, James Scannell and Richard Faldetta. Starring lights and properties are under the professional direction of Harold L. Whitman, an expert of the first class, assisted by Paul West and Fainth Lennon.

The St. James Dramatic Club, an outgrowth of the popular old St. James Players has already made a name for itself outside local circles. They have given benefit performances at the Waltham Hospital on previous occasions and recently, upon request reproduced one of their popular successes at the Fitchburg Normal School.

Non-Partisan Meeting Is Well Attended

Last Tuesday evening, in spite of adverse weather conditions, a group of approximately one hundred members and friends of the Arlington Heights Tower Association, Inc., gathered in the hall of the Brackett school to listen to the candidates for town offices at the coming election.

W. C. Adams, president of the Association, thanked those who attended the meeting and remarked that the success of this undertaking warrants similar ones in the future.

Grant Stores To Sponsor Contest

The W. T. Grant stores will give $1000 in prizes to the public for the best articles in tating and crocheting, submitted before March 31.

There are four classifications of work which will be accepted:

1. Articles made with mercerized crocheted cotton.
2. Articles made with bed-spread cotton.
3. Articles made with pearl cotton.
4. All tatted articles.

The prizes for each of the four groups are as follows:

First prize	$25.00
Second prize	10.00
Third prize	5.00
Fourth prize	2.00
Fifth prize	2.00
Sixth prize	2.00
Seventh prize	1.00
Eighth prize	1.00
Ninth prize	1.00
Tenth prize	1.00

Entries will be accepted only when the finished piece is accepted. A customer cannot enter more than one entry in each of the four classes. Also, it must be understood, that all articles must be made with cotton purchased in a Grant store.

W. T. Grant Company anticipates a tremendous response in this coast-to-coast contest due to the fact that their needlework contest held last Fall, was so successful.

Mr. O'Connell, manager of the local Grant store, 319 Broadway states all that is necessary for one to enter the contest is an entry card, which can be obtained at the art goods department, filled in, and returned with the finished article.

Hub's Passion Play Seen By Thousands

Never in its long run of thirty-one years has "Pilate's Daughter" been more popular. Since Lent began more than a thousand people from all sections of Greater Boston and the suburbs have witnessed each performance. The play now in its thirty-second season has lost none of its appeal. What is there about it that people return year after year and leave more enthusiastic than ever when they tire of the best stage production after a short run?

The reason is not hard to find. "Pilate's Daughter" tells a story of which men never tire, the story of the Passion and death of the Saviour. It is a Passion Play. And Father Kenzel, its author, has woven into the Scriptural accounts of the Passion a very human story. The cast is entirely amateur. The players are young ladies of the Mission Hill section of Roxbury who give their services to this good work after their day at the office, or the factory, or the school room. They make no pretense of being professionals. Their work is of a spiritual nature and their portrayals of the parts is based on a deep seated love for the Passion of Christ.

Mayor Mansfield and a group of prominent Boston officials will attend the performance next Thursday. "Pilate's Daughter" is staged every Thursday evening at 8.20 and every Sunday afternoon at 2.00. Tickets may be reserved by phoning Highlands 4800 or addressing mail to "Pilate's Daughter," 1565 Tremont St., Boston, Mass.

Urges Wisdom In Electing Assessor

Arlington, Mass., Feb. 23, 1934.

To the voters and property owners of Arlington:

As election draws near we hear much from different sources soliciting votes for this and that candidate, but I wonder how much of this ballyhoo is just politics for the personal gain of office seekers.

Do we voters know who's who and the why's or do we just take it for granted that this or the other candidate must be all right merely because this or the other Committee stands behind him?

I do not wish to enter into a heated argument or discussion as to the merits of any candidate nor to the reason either pro or con why we should support this or that Committee, but it may be to have a certain portion of the electorate draw honest conclusion and support unbiased opinions. I have especially in mind those home owners and Real Estate tax payers who are naturally interested in the selection of honest and competent men for the office of Assessor.

I wonder how many of the home owners have had the experience of having the assessor's value of their property cut 50 percent in a period of less than three years. If the parcel of Real Estate I have in mind were a big one then there might be some justification, since large estate, like large automobiles have a tremendously deflated market value; but when we consider that the original assessment on this property was only $4,000 you will agree with me I think, that something is wrong in Denmark.

Voters and Real Estate owners do you know that no less than two of our present assessors (two-thirds of the entire board) are also members of the Security Committee of a local Bank that holds a great many mortgages in this town, and such a link is bound at times to work against the best interest of the Home Owners and tax payer.

For instance if a blunder on the part of the Bank due to misjudgment or perhaps favoritism, in the placing of an over large mortgage, ever comes to light it is quickly covered up by placing on the property, by the board of assessors, an assessed value far above its actual value.

The reason why this particular assessment was first cut 25 percent and 25 percent a second time was because the owner threatened to drop the property since the first mortgage was more than its value at that time. At least one member of the Board of Assessors knew that if his Bank took the property over it at once became a liability instead of an asset hence the unheard of tax reduction.

In closing let me urge upon you the necessity of electing to the office of assessor men who are honest and independent of any group, who will not assess fabulous values to protect any Bank's interest. It is impossible to serve two masters and do justice to even with the wisdom of Solomon.

Figures I have used are taken from the files of the Assessors' office.

Yours truly,
Joseph Grano,
61 Rhinecliff st.,
Arlington, Mass.

Mrs. David B. Dill and Mrs. Horace Lester acted as hostesses for the afternoon.

Junior High East Wins Fifth Successive Basketball Crown

The Jr. High East defeating the Jr. High Center quintet for the second time this season 18 to 12 won their fifth successive basketball championship. The East has never lost a basketball championship since its opening in 1928. In 1928 the Jr. Highs ended in a triple tie, but since then the East has taken the local Jr. High honors. The East teams are coached by Edward L. Humphrey, popular Jr. High teacher and playground instructor.

Last Friday at the high school gym the East defeated the Center in a fast and hard played game, with the East having 18 to 12 advantage. At the end of the first half the score stood 6 points all, both teams playing a defensive game. The start of the third period the East lined up in an unorthodox manner thus putting the Center in more or less of a quandary. Ryan, the East right forward, was again the leading scorer, with seven points, his total for the season being 44 points. Mell and Santos featured for the Center team.

Toby Lyons Seeks Office In Town

Ernest Lyons also known as "Toby" who is well known throughout the town, especially in the East End, is running for Town Meeting Member for the third year term in Precinct two. He has lived at 33 Fairmont st. for the last twenty-six years. He has been employed by the Fred T. Ley Co., and the Standard Oil Co., and is a former member of the Massachusetts State Fireman's association and at present is with the C. W. A. He is the originator of the East Arlington Independent club and a staunch supporter of Sunday sports in this town.

Arlington In Inter-City Hoop Playoffs

Plans are under way for the inter-city playoffs in basketball between Arlington-Medford-Cambridge and Somerville to be held two nights in succession. The junior champs of the above teams will also play for the junior title. It is planned to have the games in Medford and Somerville and Arlington is eligible to have the finals if a suitable gym can be had.

It is hoped that the School Committee will allow the use of the East Junior High for the finals of this journey. The Arlington A. A. will represent the seniors of Arlington due to the fact that they now hold top place with no chance of displacement and the Cardinals will probably go after the Junior title because they are undefeated this year in that division.

CHURCHES OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST

"Christ Jesus" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, March 4.
The Golden Text is: "Other foundation can no man lay than that is laid, which is Jesus Christ" (I Corinthians 3:11).
Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Now when John had heard in the prison the works of Christ, he sent two of his disciples, and said unto him, Art thou he that should come, or do we look for another? Jesus answered and said unto them, Go and shew John again those things which ye hear and see: the blind receive their sight, and the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, and the deaf hear, the dead are raised up, and the poor have the gospel preached to them" (Matthew 11:2-5).
The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Jesus" works established his claim to the Messiahship. In reply to John's inquiry, "Art thou he that should come," Jesus returned an affirmative reply, recounting his works instead of referring to his doctrine, confident that this exhibition of the divine power to heal would fully answer the question" (p. 131).

Hardy School Rally Tonight

A huge rally of particular interest to the voters of East Arlington will be held at the Hardy School this evening at 7:45 in the interest of the candidates endorsed by the Civic Committee.
All candidates endorsed by this Committee will be introduced at the public gathering. Of special interest will be the discussion of issues by Albert E. Hughes, candidate for Selectman, and Edward F. Ryan, candidate for re-election to the Board of Public Works.
Preceding the speaking program exceptionally fine entertainment will be provided for the audience.
P. Joseph McManis, chairman of the Civic Committee, is chairman in charge, and will act as master of ceremonies, introducing speakers and entertainers. A large audience is expected to attend this all important rally.

CHURCH GROUP HEARS TALK ON TOWN AFFAIRS

Continued interest in the Group Discussion meetings held Sunday noon at the First Universalist church was shown by the large attendance at the fourth and final meeting in the present series. The topic was "What the residents of Arlington should know and be thinking about in town affairs."

Mr. Fielder, president of the Men's Club, the organization sponsoring these discussions, turned the direction of the meeting over to Ernest W. Davis, the present chairman of the Finance Committee and candidate for Selectman at the coming March election.

Mr. Davis stressed the importance of the financial side of our local government. Formerly, the problem was how to spend our money wisely; today, it is how can we reduce our expenses and live within our income. Reducing the tax rate or lowering the valuation of property is not the solution. The only possible way of reducing the tax bill is to reduce expenditures, and the real problem is how to economize without detriment to the town. Mr. Davis then gave instances of how reductions had been effected.

Final Games In Basketball Loop Next Thursday

The basketball games scheduled for last Monday night in the Arlington Amateur Basketball League were postponed because of the storm. The games will be played on Tuesday and Thursday nights of next week at the Junior High East gymnasium.

On Tuesday, March 6, the following games will be played: Bears vs. Skeletons; Gounaris vs. Pirates; East vs. Pale.
On Thursday, March 8, the first games will be a consolation game between the losing teams of the junior games played on March 1 and March 6. The second game will be the final in the play-off and the junior teams winning their games on March 1 and March 6 will face each other. The winner of this game will be the champion of the junior division of the league. The senior game to be played the same evening will find the Arlington A. A. meeting the Fab Seniors. These are the last games of the league and the fans attending are sure of a fine evening entertainment.

Ambitious Scouts To Appear In Play "Daddy Long Legs"

The five girls who are to play the part of the orphans in "Daddy Long Legs" are among the most ambitious of the younger scouts. Peggy Bond is the eleven year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Bond of Brantwood rd. She joined troop eleven of which her mother is captain, in 1932.

Louis Hall, the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Charles Taber Hall, joined troop 10 in 1931. She is twelve years old and is a second class scout. She has been active in the plays given by her troop, a number of which were written by the captain, Mrs. Charles E. MacKusick.
Viola Moore has also been in troop 10 plays. She is a second class scout, having joined in 1931. Last summer, she attended camp at Wind in the Pines. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest R. Moore of Bartlett ave.

Betty Kennedy, thirteen year old daughter of Dr. and Mrs. David R. Kennedy of Mass. ave., is a second class scout. She joined in 1930 troop five, whose captain is Ruberta Bailey, her father and mother are both active in the Friends of the Drama.
Frances Yeague, also of troop five, is a second class scout, and a first corps drummer. She attended camp last summer at Wind in the Pines. She is twelve years old having joined the Girl Scouts in 1931. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Oswald Yeague of Kensington rd.
This play is to be given Friday and Saturday evenings, March 9 and 10 in the Town Hall.

Brother-In-Law Of Mrs. Fitzgibbon Now Rear Admiral

Mrs. John Fitzgibbon, mother of Officer George Fitzgibbon, of the local police force, has received word from Shanghai, China, from her sister, Mrs. I. E. Bass, to the effect that her husband Ivan E. Bass has been selected for the rank of Rear Admiral, Engineer Corps, United States Navy.
Rear Admiral and Mrs. Bass have been residing in the Far East for a period of over two and one half years. They are expected to arrive in Boston during the summer months after making an extensive tour through Europe, finally embarking for the United States at an English port. After a visit here they will proceed to Washington, D. C. where Admiral Bass will assume new duties in the Navy Department.

Organizations Back Hughes And Ryan In Election

At a meeting held Monday evening by the Arlington Home Owners' Association, the members voted to endorse Albert E. Hughes, candidate for Selectman and Edward T. Ryan, candidate for re-election to the Board of Public Works. At a meeting of the Swedish American club on Wednesday evening a resolution was introduced and unanimously adopted placing the club on record as endorsing Albert E. Hughes for Selectman and Edward T. Ryan for re-election to the Board of Public Works.

Endorses Marsh For Public Works Board

To the Voters of Arlington:
As the time has come when the voters who pay the bills have to choose their representative to conduct the business and to spend their money in the administration of the town business, they should be more interested in the man and not his affiliations.

It is with a great deal of pleasure that I write these few lines endorsing Mr. Loren W. Marsh for the Board of Public Works. It was my privilege to serve with Mr. Marsh as a member of the Board for five years and during that time it was apparent to everybody who came in contact with him that his ability to serve the town was most valuable because of his training with one of the largest general supply companies in this country, his knowledge of organization, and talent to recognize men who have the ability to do the work best for the town of Arlington.

As demonstrated when he was on the board before that none of the men who came directly under his jurisdiction need have any fears of losing their jobs. Also it was the policy of the board for years to have the superintendent boss, and it was his job to lay out and organize the department so that the town's money was not wasted, and spent wisely.

To the people of Arlington, let me say that the town is very fortunate to have a man with Mr. Marsh's qualifications to offer his services to the town once more, and it was only after men who know him waited on him at his home several times that he consented to let his name be used as a candidate for re-election.

Yours very truly,
Thomas D. Kennedy.

Looking Inside

Next Monday is Voting Day in Arlington so get out and vote. Who shall you vote for? Use your own judgment. There is a whole lot of good people on the ballot. Take the top of the list for instance, we have for Selectman:

Mr. Davis—Engineer for a wire company; not young; not old; kind of plumpish; Present chairman of Finance Committee. If elected his talk on the Board might be, "Gentlemen, we must cut expenses at least 10 per cent."

Mr. Hughes—Attorney at law; a little older than Davis. No town experience but has been an Alderman in Somerville several terms. If elected his talk on the Board might start off like this, "This is the way we do it in Somerville."

For Board of Public Works: Mr. Marsh—Contractor. Has been on the Finance Committee and was a member of the Board of Public Works, all of which occurred several years ago. If elected he will find that the town is double in size and is twice as complex as it was when he knew it. Also we have snow.

Mr. Ryan—Present chairman of the Board of Public Works, having served on that Board three years. If elected the policies of that Board will continue as it has for the last year. Speaking of horses—he can take 'em or let 'em alone.

P. S. Did it snow or did it snow? Last week's storm was wet, heavy and deep. Plowing the streets was extremely difficult as plowing sidewalks was impossible. Understand the telephone wires were kept hot with complaints from people particularly those a bit off the main through travel roads and the clerks at the yard and in the office took plenty of abuse. Listen you, do you know what is the matter with you? You have had too good service for the last ten years. Have had occasion to drive in several places both this side and the south side of Boston and if you think our streets are bad you haven't been around.

Deep snow, ruts, foot high ice bumps still on the MAIN streets. Calm down.

P. S. S. Vote. Only 58 per cent of our citizens came out last election. Almost shameful. Vote. g—BERT—w

State Chemist Gives Lecture To Firemen

With seventy-two of the eighty firemen registered in the State Training School for Firemen, which has been holding sessions at the Highland station, present a most enthusiastic class was held this week when Walter L. Wedger, former State chemist lectured. The class will graduate March 13. The classes are being sponsored by the Massachusetts Department of Education, vocational division, in cooperation with the Fire Chiefs' Club of Massachusetts.

Mr. Wedger gave a number of demonstrations on high explosives, high inflammable liquids and substances liable to be met at a fire, and tests of extinguishers. He showed the power of mercury in blasting caps and the inflammable nature of motion picture films and the inadequacy of water in such instances. Following the lecture, Mr. Wedger took the men to the rear of the fire station, where he gave practical demonstrations.

Miles of condemned film taken by the State were burned up in this demonstration.

Among the visitors were Chief Charles French and Deputy Chief Merrill of Manchester, N. H.; Chief Albe T. Meland of Nashua, N. H.; Chief William Haffney of Concord, N. H.; Chief John McNally of Somerville, Capt. Charles Bell of Brockton, John Campbell, superintendent of special service for the Edison Company, who will lecture March 11 on the handling of electric wires at a fire, and Alfred N. Minor, chairman of the State fire prevention committee.

M. Norcross Stratton of the State Department of Education, vocational division, who is in charge of the various schools now established, presented Mr. Wedger. Chief Daniel B. Tierney of this town acted as host.

Bridge Party To Aid Local Needy

The annual bridge and whist party sponsored by the Hardy School Parent-Teachers Association was held Wednesday evening in the school hall. Many attractive and useful souvenirs were donated by local merchants. The proceeds will be devoted to welfare work.

Mrs. Low Corbett was chairman of the committee assisted by Mrs. Donald Marshall, Mrs. Frank Buxton, Mrs. William Ruhl, Mrs. Clifford Hodge, Mrs. Robert D'Unger, Mrs. Ernest Stevens, Mrs. Charles Rowntree, Mrs. Joseph Holmes, Mrs. Arthur Clare, Mrs. John Nelson, Mrs. Arthur Dillon, Mrs. Thomas McGorty, Mrs. Robertson, Miss Ethel Higgin, Miss Jean Roberts and Miss Helen Fogg.

Middlesex County V. F. W. Meet Here

Middlesex County Council V. F. W. meeting was held at G. A. R. Hall last Sunday afternoon with 80 delegates present. Many interesting topics were discussed and voted. Henry V. Day, State Dept. Adjutant was the principal speaker. He stressed the importance of unity and understanding in individual posts and County Councils. The state dept., he said was ready at all times to help gain this end. Middlesex County Commissioner, William J. Mahoney conducted the meeting assisted by Sr. V. Com. Walter Burdett, Jr. V. Com. William Keefe, Adj. Edward Parker and Deputy Sheriff McIlroy Dept. Patriotic instructor, Acting Sheriff of Middlesex county.

Tickets for the Annual State Dept. Military Ball to be held Monday evening, April 2nd, 1934 at Hotel Bradford, Boston, Mass., were put on sale. Members of Veterans of Foreign Wars are requested to make special effort to be present on the occasion.

MEASLES

Almost as many children die from Measles as are killed by automobiles. Measles is one of the commonest diseases of childhood, one of the most communicable, and, therefore, the hardest to control. This is Measles season, and for the sake of your own child, please pay heed and be guided by the following.

Remember

1. Symptoms: Measles begins as a head cold. At the onset there is almost always a "running" nose, the eyes "water" and may be sensitive to light.
2. Measles is a very serious disease in small children.
3. Measles is most contagious before the rash appears.
4. Do not send a child to school with fever or head cold; make certain there is no possibility of communicable disease.
5. Always call your Doctor if you suspect Measles.
6. Never deliberately expose a child to Measles.
7. As long as there is fever keep the child in bed and avoid chilling as Pneumonia is a common and very serious complication of Measles.

GOTT, CROSBY AGAINST RESTORING FULL PAY

On a rollcall vote taken last Tuesday, Representatives Nelson B. Crosby and Hollis M. Gott, both of this town, voted against the full restoration of all salary cuts to State employees and officials as of April 1, this year. The measure was carried, however, by the slim margin of 116 to 101 as the House of Representatives rejected an adverse report of its ways and means committee.

The vote came on an amendment offered by Representative C. F. Nelson Pratt of Saugus to a bill calling only for one-third restoration of salary cuts. The cuts range between 7 and 15 per cent and if the bill is finally adopted, it will cost the State $1,440,000, by making the effective period of salary cuts eight months shorter than was originally planned.

Representative Albert F. Bigelow of Brookline, chairman of the committee which had voted adversely on the restoration measure, saw the committee report rejected by a voice vote. Representative William B. Baker of Newton, a member of the committee, was one of the leaders in the fight to prevent passage.

He urged governmental economy. I declared that 450,000 people in the State at present are being assisted financially by taxpayers. "It is no time to increase public expenditures," he said, "when hundreds of thousands of persons are fighting desperately to make both ends meet, particularly so when the State employees have come through the depression unscathed."

Representative Christian A. Herter, arguing against the amendment, said: "Were I to vote for the restoration, which would bring $200 to me, I would be afraid to look one of the unemployed in the eye."

Representative John S. Derham of Uxbridge, favoring restoration, said the move would mean adding but half a cent to every dollar paid. Representative James J. Sullivan of West Roxbury, in favor of the bill, declared that living costs had risen since the reduction became effective, and Representative Thomas Dorgan of Boston, also in favor, pointed to the "large salaries paid executives of big business," as shown in news despatches from Washington.

Representative Martin Hays of Brighton offered an amendment to restore full salaries to those receiving $2000 or less, with lesser restorations being made to others. This amendment was rejected, 80 to 74, in a standing vote and the rollcall vote brought out 116 yeas and 101 nays.

Arlington A. A. Is Nosed Out In State Basketball Tourney

The Arlington Athletic Association made a bid for the state Professional Basketball title but was nosed out by the Cold Springs A. C. of Plymouth. The game was one of the many played for the tourney title and was by far the most impressive of the card.

The A. A. did not quite get going until midway in the first half and then put on a burst of speed to get a 9-8 advantage at half time. The all-around work of the entire team was a thing of comment by the fans and the boys gave all they had. The Cold Springs team was a veteran outfit and well schooled in the game and was a little rougher than our local boys in this respect. The second half started out in a rough fashion and the fans soon realized that they were witnessing one of the best games seen at the Plymouth tourney.

The work of Johnny Driscoll at center was a revelation. Eddie Galucci was passing in great style and although the baskets were few and far between in play it is rather difficult to score as holding, pushing and even sagging is allowed and of this there was plenty. The clock showed only three minutes to play when a pass to Driscoll was good for two points and the A. A. team went into the lead by a point. With 15 seconds to play Joe Donahue and one of the Plymouth boys got into a mixup at which time by some method not witnessed by the writer the Cold Springs player let the ball go and believe it or not it was a Merrill finish with the ball going in and the game ending right there.

The final score stood 16-15 in favor of Plymouth and judging by calibre of the other teams in the tourney the A. A. would have an easy time in winning from them if played under amateur rules.

The Big Red now looks forward to the New England Amateur tourney to be held the later part of March at Providence. This tourney will be held at the capital city and if the A. A. agrees to terms they may attempt one more to gain high laurels.

Galucci High Scorer For A. A.

The Arlington A. A. scoring list for its 20 games so far this year shows Galucci as high scorer with 241 points as his credit. The locals have piled up 826 points as compared to 531 by their opponents. The standings:

Galucci	241
Triery	182
Lowder	114
Driscoll	112
Donahue	101
Goodwin	42
Crocco	17
Lionetta	6
Teehan	4
Kane	4
Colough	3
Total Points	826
Opposition's Total	531
Arl. average per game	41.3 pts.

Birthday Party For Mrs. Kempton

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Browne of 59 Windsor st. gave a dinner party to their sister, Mrs. Robie E. Kempton of 68 Randolph st. recently, in honor of her birthday.

The decorations were beautiful in red, white and blue and a large birthday cake added much to the festivities. Those present were, Mr. and Mrs. Roy S. Kempton, Mr. Avard S. Browne and Miss Lucie Browne of Arlington, Miss Dyer of Somerville, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Fader of Medford and Robie E. Kempton. A very pleasant evening was spent playing bridge, Mrs. Fader and Mr. Roy Kempton winning the prizes.

Arlington Scouts Collect Clothing For Town's Needy

The "Good Turn" which President Roosevelt, in a nation-wide broadcast, asked of the Boy Scouts of America, has been answered by the Scouts of Sachem Council.

Already many articles of bedding, clothing and house furnishings have been collected by the Scouts under the direction of their Scoutmasters, and by the end of the three weeks many less fortunate residents of this district will be greatly helped.

Store rooms have been established in the various towns where the articles and clothing will be properly checked and kept preparatory to sending them to the Welfare Agencies for distribution.

Any citizen having such goods which he can spare is requested to get in touch with the nearest Scout in his neighborhood or telephone Scout Office, Arl. 0520.

Civic Committee Party Is A Success

The bridge and whist party held last Friday evening at the Robbins Memorial Town hall, in the interest of Civic Committee candidates, was a huge success. In spite of adverse weather conditions over three hundred people attended the party.

Fine entertainment under the direction of Daniel Donovan, master of ceremonies, featured the evening's program.

The Calvary Epworth League was led in its Sunday night service at 6:45 last Sunday by Eldon Moses. "Medicine in Africa" was the topic brought by Caroline Moses, this being the monthly missionary meeting.

WARREN, GOTT, CROSBY ARE FORUM SPEAKERS

Reasons for the defeat by the State Legislature of the Child Labor amendment to the Federal Constitution, efforts and necessity for controlling State expenditures, and the recent forcing by Congressional legislation of the adoption of numerous emergency measures by the State, were general topics discussed by Senator Charles Warren and Representatives Nelson Crosby and Hollis Gott, all of Arlington, at a recent forum in the Universalist Church.

This was the third of a group of four open forums arranged for 12.10 each Sunday in February. The meetings are sponsored by the Men's Club of the Church; and President Fielder opened last Sunday's meeting, which enjoyed the largest attendance thus far in the series. He announced the subject as "State Affairs," and introduced Rep. Gott, a member of the Club, who presided during the discussion.

Several hundred bills are filed with the Legislature each year. Rep. Gott explained, and a small portion of these are eventually enacted into law. Most of them, however, are given leave to withdraw or are otherwise rejected after mature consideration by carefully selected committees. There are some 20 of these committees, composed of both Senators and Representatives, each chosen for special fitness for the kind of legislation to come before his particular committee.

Arlington is particularly fortunate, he said, in having very able and experienced representation at the State House in the persons of Senator Warren and Representative Crosby, both chairmen of important committees.

Bill Unreasonable
Rep. Gott then introduced Rep. Crosby who is reputed as an authority on constitutional law. He discussed very pointedly the reasons why his committee voted against ratification by Massachusetts of the Child Labor amendment to the Federal Constitution. The measure as drawn, he said, gave to Congress the power to "limit, regulate and control" the labor of any persons under 18 years of age. Opponents of the measure held that such broad powers would allow Congress, should it choose at any time in the future, to adopt regulations prescribing just what work anyone under 18 years of age might do or might not do. It did not specify whether the labors to be controlled were for hire or not; and Congress could, therefore, prohibit anyone under 18 from helping parents around the home or on the farm, could prescribe military training, or could regulate education of the children.

Proponents of the measure argued that even if Congress could, under the amendment, do such things, it probably would not do so.

The opposition stressed the possibilities, and did not believe granting of such broad powers were wise.

Rep. Crosby said the question was not a religious one, as both Protestants and Catholics were divided among themselves on the matter.

Raps New Deal

Senator Warren read a statement concerning the effect of the "New Deal" on State legislation. His comments were most emphatic as he declared that he has been and still is opposed to rushing through important legislation under the propulsion of "emergency," either in Washington or on Beacon Hill.

The Senator said that much of the legislation passed in Massachusetts this past year was forced upon the State by various actions of Congress.

The emergency legislation adopted in Washington since March, 1933, particularly that affecting banks and insurance companies, required drastic action on the part of the Massachusetts Legislature to make our State laws conform with Federal Acts, he said.

In order to make the State laws operative, the Legislature was asked by Governor Ely, and it acceded to his requests, for extraordinary powers for the bank and insurance commissioners of the State, among other things. Particularly in view of revelations of the past months as to laxity and irregularities in financial affairs throughout the nation, Senator Warren said such great blanket powers, even in an emergency, should not be granted any office of the State, at least not before careful, sober deliberation, and not until excitement and tenseness which might warp legislative judgment had subsided.
